

Renaissance Convention Center deliciously demonstrates that “Santa is coming to town!”

With holiday season just around the corner, many companies or groups may find they have still not made their end of the year celebratory plans, and the staff at the Renaissance Convention Center demonstrated on Wednesday morning how easy a task it can be for harried party planners.

A festive display of their table service, beautiful buffets, and a sampling of the gourmet dishes offered was tempting, indeed! New Executive Chef Michele was on hand and happy to explain the various dishes from the salad bar, hot table, and sinful holiday dessert selections.

The menu offered was an amalgam of the many packages offered by the center, which also includes themed parties for the season with names such as “Polar Express,” “How the Grinch at the Christmas Buffet,” “Magic Underneath the Mistletoe,” and Mrs. Claus’ Christmas Brunch.” All parties include a complimentary welcome champagne toast, and flexible packages for bar service. The catering menus range from as little as $31.95 per person to $87.50 per person for parties with a minimum of fifty.

Event Assistant Manager Rufat Geerman, along with Magaly Willems answered inquiries from press members, as they will be happy to do for any interested parties. Rufat mentioned that most weekends until the end of the year are booked, but the convention center still has many days available during the week. He also mentioned that though party menus apply to groups of fifty or better, the Renaissance will be happy to work with and accommodate smaller groups. Rufat can be contacted at telephone number 523-6403 and Magaly at 523-6404. As Renaissance staff pointed out, Santa is on his way, and the center offers a worry free and deliciously memorable way to celebrate the season!